

Pygmy Possum sat for a while feeling sad.
Brush-tail Possum came to sit beside her.

‘What’s wrong?’ she asked.

‘I want to climb up to those flowers,’
said Pygmy Possum, ‘but Numbat says
I’m too little’.

An illustration of two possums in a forest at night. The larger possum, Brushtail Possum, is in the center, looking towards the viewer with its mouth open as if laughing. It has large, dark eyes and prominent ears. The smaller possum, Pygmy Possum, is perched on a tree trunk to the left, looking towards the larger possum. The background is a dark blue night sky with silhouettes of trees and a large tree trunk on the right. The ground is dark with some small plants and rocks.

Brushtail Possum laughed softly.

‘You’re a possum,’ she said.

‘You have big eyes to see in the dark.
You have strong paws to hold on.
And you have a super special tail.

You have what it takes. Why not give it a go?’

‘I will!’ Pygmy Possum said.
